MESSAGE FROM JUDGE LIAN QUAN ZHEN

This show displays wonderful paintings revealing beauty, harmony and peace. Many capture the essences and spirits of desert landscape and lives. The winning artists demonstrated skillful handling of media, perspective, composition and creativity. More importantly, the excellent ones expressed unique personal styles. Judging the Nevada Watercolor Society Spring Show is a tough job for me because there are many beautiful paintings I wanted to recognize. It was difficult to choose so few for awards. Whether your piece is selected or not, painting should be fun, sharing love and beauty. In the process of painting, if you are happy and smile, you are a winner.

Since its inception in 1969, The Nevada Watercolor Society has encouraged and promoted the advancement of watermedia in Southern Nevada.
